The Senate has added to the bonus bill an appropriation of $100,000,000 to reclaim swamps and arid lands, the lands to be distributed among ex-servicemen. Senators opposing the bonus voted for this amendment. They did it, they frankly admit, to make quite certain that the President would veto the bill, and Congress exercise its veto.

To assume that the President would veto a measure to reclaim swamps and deserts and give the land to soldiers does not speak highly for the Senate's opinion of the President's intelligence or patriotism.

Will the Republican administration that cheerfully gives hundreds of millions of public money to private railroad owners to help them out of their little difficulties, refuse to spend money to improve the territory of the United States and provide land for soldiers? The answer to that question will interest voters.

Where fashion is concerned, to say that woman is changeable as a feather in the wind is putting it mildly. You know how white American women sit for hours, uncomfortable, in the most fruitful perspiration, while a hair dresser fastens a "modern wave" to their straight hair. They pay $40 and waste hours to get that kind of hair.

From South Africa to the United States Commerce Department comes a demand via the American Trade Commission at Johannesburg for something that will attract out the kinky permanently waved hair of the Kaffir and other South Africa ladies.

A handsome little white palace on the Hudson River was built with money that "colored" men got by selling a kind of remover in this country. One lady's joy is another's sorrow.

Here's some comfort for employers of strikers: Whatever happens usually helps them. Henry Ford will close his factory and discharge 40,000 men. What will those men do? Ship the men on strike? Not exactly. Many of them will apply to the railroad for jobs to help break the strike.

This intelligence at the top is able to manipulate the lack of it at the bottom.

Recently Samuel Gompers predicted that four million, million men and fourteen million farmers would unite to help each other.

At present, for lack of coal and transportation facilities, the strike, canneries, cheese factories and creameries are running on the ground, and transportation for fruit and vegetables are not adequate.

How many of the fourteen million farmers will sympathize with coal miners and railroads? How many will do exactly the other thing? Mr. Gompers thinks a majority of the 14,000,000 farmers will sympathize with union miners.

Mr. Hill took the Greene case with the greatest reluctance. "President Rockwell said, 'Because of the pressure of other business he found it expedient to withdraw.'"

The fate of $600,000 alleged to have been paid over to the Massachusetts Motor Company, Inc., by the Commercial Finance Corporation and the Mutual Finance Corporation, is being traced by the Special Grand Jury which is probing the affairs of the H. V. Greene Company and affiliated corporations.

The Massachusetts Motors, Inc. is said to have been one of the great losers in the life of the Greene exploits. It is the one that purchased the financial bubble of the former drug clerk and his associates.

It is transcribed as said to have been the first to arouse suspicion, and when the concern went into bankruptcy in August, 1920, the death knell of a string of spectacular enterprises was sounded, say of claims in charge of the inquiry.

The trend of the grand jury in New Haven being conducted by Attorney General J. Weston Allen, data shows that the collapse of the Massachusetts Motors, Inc., and the manner in which it conducted business, has an important bearing on the whole group of Greene ventures. Loans made to Massachusetts continued on page 3, column 5.

Counsel Who Attacked Sherman L. Whipple Finds He Is Too Busy

Arthur D. Hill, former corporation counsel of Boston, who as special counsel for the Boston Legal Aid Society launched the attack upon Sherman L. Whipple in connection with the prosecution of suits against Henry V. Greene Company has withdrawn.

There was considerable criticism of Mr. Hill for having included Attorney Whipple and other prominent citizens who, as trustees without pay, sought to conserve the resources of the corporation, Charles R. Rackman, president of the Legal Aid Society, avers this criticism had nothing to do with Mr. Hill's withdrawal.

"No Parking" Signs Must Come Down; Autoists Joyful

Here is relief for the harassed motorist. It is almost impossible to park a car because of the multitude of signs which warn "No Parking Here." If you pay no attention to the signs you risk arrest. If you heed them you can't park.

As a matter of fact, these private "No Parking" signs are illegal. Only the police have authority to establish or restrict parking areas. The street commissioners today ordered the police to instruct all business men who have planted private "No Parking" signs in front of their establishments to remove them.

SLAYER IS ATTACKED BY MOB

Crowd of 200 Assail Handcuffed Man on the Way to Portland Courthouse

Portland, Me., Aug. 31.—A mob of nearly 200 infuriated foreigners attacked Ernest Vasall, charged with the murder of Rose Galli, and attempted to kill him.

Vasall, a rejected suitor, killed the girl at the Portland Public Market yesterday.

Vasall, who was being taken from the police station to the courthouse, was saved by the strenuous efforts of a detail of police reserves who beat the crowd back with their clubs.

Handcuffed to two policemen Vasall, who was arrested following the shooting of the girl, had just crossed the threshold when the mob spied him. With shouts of "kill him, kill him," they sprang at the man, but were held by the two officers who placed their bodies between the prisoner and the crowd.

This protection would have served but a few minutes, however, if the cries of the officers had not been heard by a number of others in the station. They rushed to the rescue and with clubs in hand forced the mob back. Vasall was then rushed into the courthouse and the crowd dispersed. Several were arrested and held.

In court Vasall's counsel waived the reading of the complaint charging murder and requested that their client be placed in an insane asylum for observation.

No Cut in Price of Gas, Company Tells Mayor

It will be impossible for the Boston Consolidated Gas Company to decrease the price of gas at this time, according to a letter from President D. D. Barnum to Mayor Curley, made public today.

President Barnum stated that in view of preparations made to meet the emergency created by the coal shortage, the increased price of fuel and the present range of wages, the company can make no reduction.

The president said extra apparatus had been procured to produce the maximum of gas, and facilities for taking care of a large extra demand have been provided.

CALL DOCTOR TO CURE MATILDE M'CORMICK OF LOVE SICKNESS

ONLY CARE FOR ONE TO SLEEP

Spent All Her Time at Riding Academy of Major Oser

By International News Service

Zurich, Switzerland, Aug. 31.

The real "inside" story of the romance of Major Max Oser, middle-aged Swiss riding master and Miss Matilde M'Cormick, seventeen-year-old granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, whose marriage is expected shortly, is herewith revealed by International News Service for the first time.

When Cupid was at work, M'Cormick was believed to be a doctor was called and then it was discovered that she was suffering from love sickness.

"This story, first leaked today from bits of information furnished by intimate friends, shows that Matilde fell deeply in love with the handsome Major Oser, who, however, realizing the difference in their positions, made an open profession of his own affection for the beautiful girl until authorized to do so by Harold F. M'Cormick, father of Matilde. In the meantime Major Oser and his betrothed have again met and are intended to be living in a secluded and quiet hotel, awaiting word from Mrs. M'Cormick—the mother—permitting the marriage."

KNOWS HOW TO WIN.

"When I want a thing, I go and get it," Matilde told a friend. Matilde intended to see Major Oser, who then deeply engaged a study under the famous Professor John, hearing the simple of psychology and read her mother's books. Matilde wanted to find that "she understood love."

"I have my own," said she. Matilde wanted to learn to ride, she liked outdoor life and riding seemed to be the way of winning this love. Mrs. M'Cormick was at first opposed. But being a follower of the philosophy which she feared to create a "complex," she finally decided to allow her daughter to have her way.

Here enters Major Max Oser, former army officer, handsome and dashing. From her fashionable hotel on the shore of the lake Matilde walked daily across the River Bridge and into the Major's house, where the riding academy was conducted. From the first minute she entered into the saddle Matilde was so charmed by the Major's riding that she was accompanied by Major Oser, who rode along the mountain roads enjoying the gorgeous scenery.

"She is only a dear child," Major Oser was said to have remarked.

LOVING HER WIFE. In the meantime Mrs. M'Cormick began to get worried. Matilde was losing her appetite and was losing weight. She began to cough and her face paled. She spent every possible minute at the riding academy.

"She would only come in to sleep," said one attendant at the hotel who remembered the time. "One could always find her at the Muller Strasse."

Physicians were called in. They said that Matilde was ailing and that she ought to have a change of climate. But it was not a change of climate she needed at all. She was worried and dissatisfied with that love sickness which overcame her parents at some time in their lives.

M'Cormick understood. One day he went to Major Oser and intended to him that Matilde was in love with him. There was some conversation, the details of which have remained a secret. The following week "the question was popped."

It was asked during a short horseback ride. When they returned Matilde's eyes were shining and the passion had gone out of her cheeks.

HILL QUILTS IN GREENE SUITS

Money by the Finance companies are said to have been questionable. It is alleged that when automobiles were sold by the Massachusetts Motor Co., cash for the same was to be turned back to the Commercial and Mutual Finance Corporation.

It was alleged that the cars were sold in the form of mortgages and carried an interest rate of 10 per cent. In this way, customers who had secured their accounts with each were supposed to have been secured to the Commercial and Mutual Finance Corporation.

George W. Reed, receiver for the Massachusetts Motor Company, Inc., is among the witnesses waiting to testify. He petitioned Federal Bankruptcy Court to receive $100,000 motor cars and $25,000 in cash soon after his appointment. The affairs of the Massachusetts Motor Company, Inc., are said to be hopelessly entangled.

The grand jurors will be told about the transactions of the Massachusetts Motor Company, Inc., when patrons visited the office of the concern and begged for their money.

Among the witnesses who appeared before the special grand jury was Edward Campbell of No. 218 Milk street, former treasurer of the Mutual Finance Corporation. He is one of the heaviest contributors of the company, holding about $100,000 of the stock. It is said, he was before the jury for over an hour.

Another witness was James McLellan, Jr., of East Hampton, who is believed to have told of the sale of the Mutual Finance Corporation to the Mutual Finance Corporation. Other witnesses were Louis Magdon of No. 10 Beacon street, an insurance man; Arthur M. Baker, an officer of the Guaranty Security Company, and Edward C. Higgins of West Medford, local manager of the Mutual Finance Corporation.

GERMANS OWE 270 MILLIONS FOR U. S. ARMY

Paris, Aug. 31 (By the Associated Press).—The American government, through a channel quite apart from the American Embassy in Paris, has reopened its inquiry as to the propriety of keeping American troops on the Rhine.

The present attitude of the French government is said to be one of indifference, while the German government has expressed a desire that the American garrison continue, being likely, the Germans believe, to exercise a valuable influence on the Belgian, French and British forces of occupation.

One reason for the American attitude, it is understood, is the fact that nothing has been paid by Germany for the maintenance of the army, the bill for which now amounts to $175,000,000, less certain sums, estimated at $45,000,000, consisting of requisitions made by the American military authorities on the German government.

Says Russian Army Will Aid Germany

By International News Service.

Berlin, Aug. 31.—The spectre of another war hangs over Central Europe. Karl Radek, writing in the German newspaper, the Red Flag, hinted strongly that the Russian Red Army would be prepared to assist Germany if France undertook military invasion of the Ruhr Basin where the German coal fields are located.

France has threatened to take force action unless her indemnity demands were met. Germany has refused to meet them. Radek said in part:

"In the iron embrace of the French, Polish and Czechoslovak armies, Germany could fight a new war only with Russia's support. French occupation of the Ruhr would make France, the mightiest economic power in Europe. This danger demands from us the greatest military vigilance."

"The old capitalists Europe is about to begin a new dance of war and death. Those who cannot dance must be trampled to death."

Hungarian Troops at Austrian Border

Vienne, Aug. 31 (By the Associated Press).—Reports of the concentration of Hungarian forces on the western border of Austria are officially confirmed.

It is reported Hungarian bands headed by Baron Prokay and Major Helly are reforming across the border. It is alleged that the army was reformed in the form of a volunteer unit and carried an interest rate of 10 per cent. In this way, customers who had secured their accounts with each were supposed to have been secured to the Commercial and Mutual Finance Corporation.

WELLESLEY TAX RATE ANNOUNCED AS $20

The Wellesley assessors have fixed the tax rate for this year at $20 per $10,000. Last year's rate was $18.50.

LEGION SESSION SHOTS IN DARK

GEN. COLE

New Bedford, Aug. 31.—The annual three-day State convention of the American Legion, Department of Massachusetts, opened here today with several hundred delegates in attendance.

The convention was called to order by General Charles H. Cole of Boston, department commander, and followed an invocation by Department Chaplain Rev. George S. L. Conner of Pittsfield, an address of welcome.

Through suddenly darkened corridors, filled with cells and revolvers, shots, officers of the vice squad today made their way to the room of Luigi Longolino and arrested him on three counts of drug violations. At his home, No. 95 Chelsea street, East Boston.

The capture is regarded as one of the most important made by the vice squad. Longolino has served three terms in jail and has two Federal cases pending on dope charges. He is called a leader among dope peddlers.

He was held in $7,500 bail on the request of District Attorney O'Brien. Officers O'Leary, Conway and Monahan made the arrest. Longolino, known as Patsy Balini, yesterday said cocaine and morphine in Boston. He was charged with sales and with being where narcotics were found.

OFFICERS FIGHT FOR LIQUOR AT SALEM

Salem, Aug. 31.—The State of Massachusetts and the United States today engaged in a legal battle over the custody of the name of the liquor named by the police of Manchester, on August 14, of Magnolia.

The liquor was seized and six men were arrested when an attempt was made to land the liquor from the schooner Hawk.

Captain Louden of the Hawk and crew have been sentenced to one year each in the House of Correction and fined $1,000 each in the District Court here. They have appealed. Their cases will come up in Superior Court and the liquor is held for evidence. The captain and members of the crew must appear in Federal Court also and the liquor is held as evidence before that tribunal.

Deputy United States Marshal Phelan today appeared in District Court before Judge George H. Sears asking for the forfeiture of the liquor in the Federal government. His contention was that there was no authority for the State to seize liquor smuggled into the country in an effort to escape Federal customs.

Judge Sears was of the opinion that the State Court was within its rights in forfeiting the liquor to the State authorities so as to allow its use in Superior Court, but the Federal officials claimed such action would establish a precedent.

Judge Sears, however, ruled that he would forfeit the liquor to the Massachusetts court. Deputy Marshal Phelan today appeared in District Court before Judge George H. Sears asking for the forfeiture of the liquor in the Federal government. His contention was that there was no authority for the State to seize liquor smuggled into the country in an effort to escape Federal customs.

Dr. Francis M. Mulowney, health commissioner, today issued a statement relative to the mosquito menace in his monthly report.

DR. MULOWNEY URGES CRUSADE ON MOSQUITO

"It would be well if this subject of the extermination of mosquitoes were treated with more earnestness by everyone. The mosquito is a menace to health and an economic loss to the community afflicted by them. In Boston last year eighteen cases of malaria, caused by mosquito bites, were reported."

"Campaigns waged against the mosquito are commendable, and deserve the approval, sympathy and cooperation of all. The city and town governments should lend a helping hand. The outstanding fact remains that each individual must do his part and share if we are to be rid of this pest."

IT WASN'T LOVE, BUT BANDITRY, SAYS GIRL

Lillian Abdullah, sixteen years old, who was reported to have resisted the primitive love-making habits of George Kaufman, nineteen years old, so much that she secured a warrant for his arrest, declares that the trouble between her and George has any connection with love.

Lillian runs her brother's store at No. 114 Castle street, South End. She said today: "George Kaufman came in here Sunday when I was alone. His gang was with him, and they threatened to rob the contents of the cash register. When I attempted to call the police he slapped me in the face." Kaufman was arrested in a charge of assault and battery.

APOLYGY LETS HIM OUT OF COURT

Constable Samuel Garfinkle and George Duval started out the other day to serve an execution on Benjamin Zack of No. 41 Vale street, Chelsea.

On the way they met Zack, who told them he could not pay. He borrowed a nickel from Garfinkle to telephone his wife. The three men went to Garfinkle's office to await the coming of Mrs. Zack with money.

Mrs. Zack arrived but on no peaceful mission. Her appearance was apparently a preconcerted signal for the starting of a riot, say the constables. Zack grabbed the constable, and Mrs. Zack, with beautiful timing, struck Garfinkle a shrewd blow, successfully diverting his attention.

Zack hit back Duval's hat, and the row was going and when two policemen arrived. They arrested the couple and served the execution on Zack in whose pocket it was found.

Judge Hosson today gave Zack the option of apologizing in open court or being found guilty of assault and battery. Zack apologized.

The court delivered a rebuke on civil constables, who he declared should be protected at all times.

6 CANDIDATES DENOUNCE O'BRIEN

District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien was the center of attack by six different candidates throughout the county last night.

They severely attacked him as "a really a Republican," as a "political trickster," as one who refused to debate on questions of moment, and one candidate enrolled him in a new League Club.

William J. Foley, member of the Governor's Council, and candidate for the Democratic nomination for district attorney, was among the most bitter in his arraignment of Mr. O'Brien.

"By the stand he has taken," said Mr. Foley, "he has betrayed the friends who stood by him."

"In addition he owes too much to the Republican party to be a real Democrat in this fight. I would like to ask how he intends to vote in regard to the other candidates on the Democratic ticket."

Peter J. Donohue, candidate for District Attorney, selected Charleston as the scene of his attack. He made his plea on the fact that Mr. O'Brien always had a secretary present when he was granting an interview or hearing.

"Under my administration there will be an open door to the District Attorney's office," he said, "and everybody will be granted a hearing regardless of wealth, creed or political standing."

Candidate Joseph P. Walsh, speaking before a large crowd in the North End, said:

"Already O'Brien has shown that he lacks the training necessary for his office."

Former District Attorney Feltner assailed Mr. O'Brien's candidacy at rallies in Chelsea, Revere and Roxbury.

10 MORE KILLED IN FIGHTING IN IRELAND

Dublin, Aug. 31 (By International News Service).—Bloodshed is increasing in the Irish Civil War with more than ten dead in the past twenty-four hours. Many new ambush attacks have been made on all sections of the front.

One of the five mutineers wounded by machine gun fire at Maryborough Prison, when a jail delivery was attempted, died today.

Heavy sniping broke out here during the morning and some streets were swept by bullets.

The chief of the Insurgent Vigilance Department has been captured by Free State troops in County Limerick.

Another prisoner was shot to death by guards while attempting to escape from the Durrab Prison.

An entire column of Republicans was captured by Free State troops at Cahel.

The situation at Cork and southward is most tense with the opposing forces resting upon their arms and preparing to renew their battle.

MOTHER-IN-LAW MAY GET HIS POSTAL JOB

The postmaster of Williamsville may be a postmistress as the result of an unusual series of circumstances in which Postmaster George Krusz, Jr., was arrested on a charge of embezzlement.

Krusz, who is accused of stealing $12,484.84 of government funds, is held in $2,500 on a charge of embezzlement.

His mother-in-law, Mrs. Melissa Shattuck, who has been doing his work for the past four months, is to be offered the post left vacant by the arrest of her son-in-law.

Krusz conducted the general store and postoffice at Williamsville. Four months ago he moved to Groton, appointing his mother-in-law clerk.

Krusz retained the title, Regularly Mrs. Shattuck made up her reports and forwarded them with the money to him.

When called on for an accounting and delivery of the receipts, Krusz was arrested in Groton. His mother-in-law is absolved of any connection by Postoffice Inspector Carl M. Nelson.

Mrs. Bradlee Gifted With a Remarkable Voice, Says Betty Alden

Four on our "talented musician" list is Mrs. Frederick J. Bradlee, Jr., who was formerly Miss Josephine de Gersdorff of New York.

She helped to make a success of many a charity function and is also noted as a talented amateur actress.

Her wedding in 1917 was a brilliant affair in Stockbridge.

MRS. FREDERICK J. BRADLEE, JR.

By BETTY ALDEN.
Mrs. George von L. Meyer, Jr., Mrs. Nevill Ford.
Miss Suzanne Dalmay.
Mrs. Frederick J. Bradlee, Jr.

SOMEbody's loss is always somebody else's gain—so when Freddie Bradlee, Jr., of Boston, captured as his bride Miss Josephine de Gersdorff of New York, Gotham's smart set lost one perfectly good voice. Which voice was Boston society's gain, for the singing of this youthful matron has helped to make a success of many a charity function.

In fact, a list of the six best society matrons would be quite incomplete without her. It was only last night that the fashionable contingent along the North Shore heard this artist when she sang at the Coffee Cabaret given at the Cotuit Yacht Club in aid of the Children's Island sanitarium. Answer singer at the cabaret was Mrs. Bayard Warren, who has lost time and the charm of Elizabeth Bears days, while Mrs. Reggie Foster and her sister, Miss Louise Hear, tripped the light fantastic with their usual grace and brilliancy at last night's affair. The latter was, by the way, distinctly one of the very smartest charity functions of the entire North Shore season.

It was in the summer of 1917 that a goodly contingent from Boston made its way to Stockbridge for the marriage of Miss Josephine de Gersdorff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl de Gersdorff, to young Frederick J. Bradlee, Jr.

I remember that the wedding presents were so wonderful that for ten whole days detectives scoured them at the Stockbridge Summer home of the de Gersdorffs, known as "Prosper Hill." On the evening of the ceremonial there was a dance at the Stockbridge Casino for the wedding party and guests. The bridegroom, by the way, is a graduate of the Harvard class of '15, and played on the Crimson team during his college days. Like his father, he is a member of the Boston Club.

Just as soon as Boston discovered that the former Josephine de Gersdorff had been gifted with a most delightful voice, this and that charity affair, while the result that the talented young matron has been singing ever since.

Those who saw "Why Not?" that clever musical comedy written by Adelaide Chatfield-Taylor Whitman, remember Mrs. Bradlee, Jr., as the charming Mesdames, Monica Boreford. The latter presented quite a contrast in the first act she appeared in the snappy costume of an actress, while in the second act she was running in a lovely evening gown of a rich apricot shade. When the former Miss de Gersdorff sang "Moonbeams" in the second act of "Why Not?" the fashionable audience applauded most heartily, and the artist was forced to repeat the song several times.

THERE are a good many folks along the North Shore who are enthusiastic dog fanciers, but there are none more interested than Miss Consuelo Bates, who spends the Summers with her mother and mother, the Amel-land Bayers, whose place at Ipswich is called "Redledge."

Miss Bates is interested in the raising and selling of wire-haired fox terriers, and she calls the young cubs "Tweedles" puppies. The kennels at "Redledge" are known as the "Lancaster Kennels." But Miss Bates is also keenly devoted to Terriers, and she is known as a very fine dancer. Last week she did a special ballet at the benefit dance given at the Hawthorne Inn in East Gloucester. Miss Bates was formerly a resident of Boston, and is a member of the Sewing Circle here. Since her mother's marriage, Mr. Bates has been making her Winter home with them on Park avenue, New York.

THE younger married set along the North Shore very nearly gave three rousing cheers when that recently wedded pair, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rice, returned from their extensive honeymoon abroad.

They have chosen as their future home the "Old Brown House" at Hamilton, one of the oldest places there. Everyone knows, of course, that Tom Rice is one of the keenest polo players along the Shore, and it is no secret that the "Old Brown House" was selected in good part because of its close proximity to the Myopia Hunt Club. Tom Rice's bride was formerly the Elizabeth Lyman, daughter of the C. Frederick Lyman of Boston and Exeter, who was acquainted one of the prettiest girls of her debutante year. The marriage of the young people was solemnized last June at Emmanuel Church.

RACE PREJUDICE BARS BANK, SAY NEGROES

An appeal to waive aside all race prejudice and to give the colored people of Boston a square chance to make some progress in the business world was made by sixteen colored clergymen today to the State Board of Bank Incorporation.

Race prejudice has held them back, denying them their rightful opportunity to live as all others live. It was declared by a score of prominent colored residents who for the third time asked the board to grant a charter to incorporate the Douglas Square Savings Bank in Roxbury.

The sixteen clergymen, representing various creeds and headed by the Rev. Dr. W. H. Jones, president of the A. M. E. Zion Church of this district, sent a written appeal to the board. "We anticipate the possibility of continued injustice," they said, "and we know it is within your power to correct all errors and to subdue all prejudice."

William H. McManis said that Mayor Curley, who has long been associated with the Illinois Savings Bank and who is intimately acquainted with the Roxbury conditions, is in favor of the granting of the charter.

Miss Mary Emery, who has done research work in every district of the city, said the colored markets and other places of business conducted by the colored people of that district are a credit to the city.

Among the petitioners for the charter are Frank (Boston Hill), Walter A. Johnson, Attorney William C. Matthews, Clement O. Morgan and Albert G. Wolff, Rev. Charles D. Douglas and William Monroe Trotter.

EXPECT NORMAL COAL MINING IN 2 WEEKS

Washington, Aug. 31 (By International News Service).—Within two weeks it was predicted today by government officials production of coal in both bituminous and anthracite fields will be virtually normal.

Bituminous production has practically reached that point now and feared in government quarters that there was every confidence that the anthracite strike will be settled this week in the joint conference between operators and miners in Pennsylvania.

By the end of two weeks the ability or inability of the railroads to move coal in sufficient quantities to prevent actual suffering can be clearly appraised, and until that time government moves will be confined to coal control legislation now pending and soon to be passed by Congress.

Cabinet officers today took the view that coal mine owners have been rendered wholly unnecessary, because of the improved outlook for an early peace.

It was asserted that the railroads will be "given every opportunity" to defeat the strike of their shopmen before any further government steps are taken.

'MEANEST MAN' APPEALS JAIL SENTENCE

Harry Geffen, convicted guard, who has been characterized as the "meanest man" was found guilty by District Court of non-support and sentenced to six months in the House of Correction.
Geffen appealed and bail was set at $500, but was changed to $200 on request of counsel. The money was furnished by Geffen.
Judge Palmer had previously given Donald an opportunity to take probation, although Attorney John McDonald demanded a sentence. Geffen refused to accept probation because he would have to pay his wife $5 a week.
He was ordered to pay that amount pending the disposition of his appeal.

Frank J. Scott, one of the first enlisted men to be elected to the office of Commander of an American Legion post in this State, has announced his candidacy for the House of Representatives on the Democratic ticket in Ward 19, South Boston. Scott is commander of the Michael J. Perkins post of the legion.

As a feature of the field day of the Ancient Order of Liberators, there was to be a debate on Saturday, the subject of "Small Norfolk County keep the district attorneyship independent." William F. Kane of Brockton and Harold R. Williams of Brockton, Republican candidates for the nomination, were invited to debate. Kane accepted but Williams declined.

NORTHCLIFFE CUT OFF FOES IN WILL

London, Sept. 1.—Sir George Hutton was appointed administrator of Lord Northcliffe's estate, pending the litigation over the publisher's will. The executors contend that the publisher was of sound mind under the first will, dated March, 1915, which the executors are prosecuting against that of July last. Lord Northcliffe made numerous bequests to the principal executives of his huge publishing organization. Immediately prior to his breakdown, however, suits were entered against him by two of the directors of the Daily Mail. Northcliffe retaliated by cancelling the old will and making Lady Northcliffe practically the sole beneficiary.

AUTO CRASH IN HAVERHILL HURTS 2

A car driven by Henry C. Drouin of Lawrence today skidded on ice driven by Bert Menzies, of No. 5 Plutonswood avenue, Haverhill, on River street, Haverhill. Florence Menzies, a sister of the driver, and Henry Goldsboro, of No. 17 Arch street, Haverhill, were taken to the City Hospital, seriously injured. The car was wrecked. After the accident Drouin lost control of his machine and skidded off by going over an embankment fifty feet away. He was uninjured.

HERE'S CHANCE TO FIGURE IT OUT YOURSELF

A Boston man started something today, which, if carried to its logical conclusion as planned, will require the expenditure of $2,277,129, 224,122.69 for postage stamps and $64,322,321,545,628.59, for stationery, a total of $4,221,411,817, 721,052.68.

All he did was to write what he called a "good luck" letter, and send it to nine friends, with the request that each one copy the letter and send it to nine friends.

The figures represent the cost of postage and stationery by the time the eighteenth series of letters is written. The eighteen series would include, if everybody requested to write a letter did so, a matter of $1,694,685,236,999.121.

By the time the 100th series is sent out everybody in the world would have received one of the letters, with enough of them left over to take care of 3,267,968,342,685, 89,325,984 people more. By the time the 1,000th series of letters had been sent, it would mean that the postage and postmaster would have gone insane, so figure it out for yourself.

Women Grasp in Vain for Liquor Seized in Mattapan Raid

When prohibition officers raided the home of Tynon Tobin, No. 36 Irma street, Mattapan, scores of eager neighbors trailed every move they made in taking out the 150 bottles labeled "Canadian Club Whiskey," every one hoping a case would break, or that the officers would forget a few bottles in the crowd.

When the excitement had died down and the last few loose bottles were taken out, several women made a wild attempt to snatch them, but without success, the only loss being a cork, which was recovered. Via the air, when it was thrown in parting disgust at the officers.

He states that, the Boston Ice Company has replied to a letter of the Commission with the announcement that the family ice will be reduced at 50 cents per hundred pounds rather than 50 cents. The Commission states that other reductions have occurred in Cambridge, Medford, Woburn, Revere, Everett, Gloucester and Hingham.

AMERICANS "SMASH" BAGGAGE IN HAVRE

Havre, France, Aug. 31 (By International News Service).—American tourists arriving here today were compelled to "hustle" their own baggage, owing to the strike of dockmen. It was a common sight to see a scrapping American traveler rolling his trunk along the quay.

Are you worrying about your coal supply?

WITHIN the past few years devices have been perfected which make possible the use of oil in central heating plants in homes. And while these devices have been in use regularly, the present coal shortage emphasizes their value.

The Standard Oil Company of New York, in keeping with its policy of service, has recently perfected a special fuel that is ideal for such oil-burning heating plants—Socony Furnace Oil.

The cleanliness and convenience of oil as a fuel are well known. It saves labor; it is remarkably effective. It is also remarkably reasonable in cost.

DAME BOSTON TAKES ANOTHER STEP FORWARD
In the solution of her traffic problems! Boston's far famed streets may have a historic significance that is the pride of all her residents, but the madly winding, narrow thoroughfares are the perpetual menace of the traffic expert. Perhaps no other city in the country is confronted with the traffic problems that exist here. Pedestrians and autos have increased to the point where something must be done beyond the admirable system now in use, and ably controlled by Captain Edward J. Hoppe. The overhead signal light plan, illustrated above, has the approval of Captain Hoppe. It may soon be adopted here. It is similar to the systems of New York, Chicago and San Francisco, with certain modifications to suit the demands of the city.

possible that this is one of the most popular advance fall models to parade your way from Paris. The airy hat is in the spirit of the empire period, faced with white satin and delicately trimmed with pale pink roses and natural grapes. It is a type (easily made at home) that looks smart on maid or matron. Write the Fictorial Editor your preference for Paris or so-called New York styles. (International News Reel)

"SALLIES" LITTLE GUESTS PUT "THUMBS DOWN" ON CLEAN UP
Time! They'd rather get a licking than see the soap and water coming. If you don't think so just study their faces. This trio of youngsters are taking the air cure at the Salvation Army's Camp at Canton, in charge of Mrs. Fred Farrar (above) and her husband. The camp will close on Saturday with a record of 1,700 little totemant guests from all sections of Boston accommodated during the season.

NEW DEVICE TO TAKE THE HORROR OUT OF mine accidents and marine disasters! The invention, a new type of breathing apparatus, is just as effective in water as on land, and is the brain child of the Federal Bureau of Mines. All naval stations and ships are now using them. The apparatus is equipped with a small oxygen tank containing sufficient air to last at least one-half hour. Photo shows a record demonstrating the apparatus in a smoke-filled chamber. (International News Reel.)

points about jumping! Photograph shows Miss Voorhees, a member of the American team of girl athletes which competed at the international meet at the Pershing Stadium at Joinville La Pout, France. Although the American team failed to win first place in the events, many individual records were made by its members. Miss Voorhees was against the competition of the best girl athletes in Europe. The work of the young women in the various events was a revelation to the spectators and coaches. (International News Reel Photo).

BOSTON ISN'T TAKING
the Coal Situation Seriously! Coal, or the lack of it, is the subject of jokes. Unfortunately the serious aspect of the joke will manifest itself with the first visit of Jack Frost. Boston today has less coal than during many war months. There is practically no available coal. This means, unless immediate remedial action is taken, that the poor man must freeze again as he did in war times. It's not necessary. Demand that your government do its share toward ending a potential hardship on the public. The coal bias above are those of one of Boston's largest companies, of Albany street.

But who, for a minute, imagines the Boston American's most Charming Girl won't go sailing by this dashing Jersey Shorester?

And just think, girls, the miss selected as the Boston American's "Charming Girl" may select her entire lingerie wardrobe from the C. F. Hovey Company. Watch for the winner!

Where Barnum Went Wrong

OR twenty years or so we've all been hearing Barnum's classic remark: "The public likes to be fooled."

The public has always enjoyed this biting comment, because it came from America's best loved showman.

But probably many of us had our fingers crossed even as we nodded approval.

The past two years in the tire business has been a pretty good test of Barnum's famous saying.

If the public liked to be fooled, here was its heart's content. "Big Discounts" to the right. "Special Sales" to the left. "Bargains" on every corner.

Certainly no man who kept his eyes and ears open missed seeing the attempt to fool the public by drawing its attention away from the essentials of real value.

Why did car-owners refuse to lower their quality standards—why did more people than ever go to quality tires?

Especially U. S. Royal Cords, which they used more and more to measure the market when they wanted a test of value.

In one way of speaking, Royal Cord

Hurlburt Also Criticizes Executive at Meeting in Faneuil Hall

Charges that the money of men connected with the Mishawum scandal was banking Channing Cox were made by Attorney-General J. Weston Allen in a rally today at Faneuil Hall.

"The only man in this campaign who has used vile language is Mr. Goulden," said Mr. Allen to a crowd of supporters that filled the Cradle of Liberty. "Mr. Goulden has solicited funds from one lawyer who figured in the Mishawum scandal case, and he has not been regulated by Mr. Cox."

Mr. Goulden is Ernest J. Goulden, who was host at the Minsky House dinner to Governor Cox, which was raided by Harold D. Wilson, then prohibition enforcement agent in Boston.

HITS "BIG BUSINESS"

"Big business is with Cox," declared Mr. Allen. "On his list of contributors over $100,000, trust companies and corporations are represented. Not so many great men on State street will be on my list, nor will any machine or interest be there."

"A vote for Cox is a vote for Charles H. Innes and the machine that he runs. A vote for me is a vote to wipe out that machine."

Henry F. Hurlburt, who served as assistant Attorney-General to Allen in the prosecution of Nathan A. Tufte, former district attorney of Middlesex County before the Supreme Court, spoke for Allen.

Mr. Hurlburt said he did not represent the Bar Association in speaking for Allen—that the Bar Association was not in politics. He outlined the progress of the Tufte case until he and Allen had all the material and went to Governor Cox to seek aid in bringing the matter before the people.

Cox's affiliations with Charles H. Innes, his personal friendship with Tufte, and his connections with other persons prevented him from being a great man.

ARRAIGNS GOVERNOR.

Cox could not say anything in his report that showed misconduct on the part of Nathan A. Tufte. He indicated that the Attorney-General should give his case before he takes for support. He treated it as a personal matter between Mr. Allen and Mr. Tufte and not as a case which affected the whole Commonwealth. He was so hostile that he left his office.

When the people demanded J. Weston Allen for their needs for Governor the machine was a whispering campaign, saying that Mr. Dodge deserved all the credit for the Tufte trial and served the credit for the Tufte trial.

"When the whispering campaign failed, State Treasurer started to talk. I voted for him for all the money he has in the State, but why doesn't he answer the question that he has asked?"

SEIZE TWO BOATS
SUSPENDED REFUSED
GOOD LIFE AD

New York, Aug. 31.—The British three-masted schooner Gamma, with $300,000 worth of Scotch whisky aboard, and the excursion steamer Smithfield, which is alleged to have been carrying a floating bar, were seized by customs and prohibition authorities today.

The Gamma was bound from Halifax, N. S., to Havana. The ship is alleged to have stopped off Montserrat to transfer part of her cargo to small boats from shore.

She was sighted by the navy boat Hansen, and, according to Inspector Percy Johnson, attempted to run away when the Hansen approached. She was overhauled after a short chase.

Crews of two rum running launches provided trials for prohibition enforcement agents in New York harbor early today.

Agents of the Customs House Special Service Squad found three two-loggers trying to get ten cases of liquor off the French freighter Phoebe, and opened fire when they tried to escape in their launch. One of the rum runners tumbled overboard, but was pulled in by his companions and the launch slipped away in the darkness.

The customs scout boat Newberry, watching in the dark off Sandy Hook, flashed on all her lights when the crew heard a motorboat. Suddenly she was greeted by a long line of the Newberry put over a small boat and rescued William White and Steve Gilinsky.

The Newberry turned her lights on the burning craft, which was found to contain forty cases of liquor. White and Gilinsky were held on charges of rum running. When they were accused by the customs agents of attempting to burn his boat in order to conceal the nature of her cargo.

Say N. Y. Rum Men
Want Boston Boats

Rum runners from New York are after the eight army boats now lying at anchor at army base, South Boston. The many bids from New York to combine bids and to invest, since a bid from Boston, caused some distrust from the department of the quartermaster.

These boats are to be sold under sealed bids September 34 and hundreds of bids from New York have arrived, but very few from Boston. Captain P. M. C. who has charge of the details of the sale at army base, was tipped off about the New York bids and is investigating to find out why New York wants these boats more than Boston.

Mrs. Caruso, widow of the great Italian singer, is one of the children disclaimed by the economic lawyer who bequeaths the bulk of his estate of $500,000 to Miss Anna Bolch Benjamin, an adopted daughter. One of the disclosures expected is that the relations of Mr. Benjamin to his adopted daughter were not entirely filial.

Another is how Mr. Benjamin assigned his wife to the sanitarium of Dr. P. W. Seward at Goshen, N. Y., twelve years ago, visiting her only twice in the past seven years, and how she was saved from being a charity patient by Enrico Caruso. HEIRLESS MAKES STATEMENT.

In his will Benjamin gave as his reason for disclaiming his five children the alleged failure of his children to "recognize me as a father." Park Benjamin, Jr., speaking in behalf of the five children, announced that the will would be contested on the grounds of "testamentary incapacity, undue influence and other grounds."

The heiress, Anna Bolch Benjamin, today issued this statement: "If I were to follow my personal inclinations I would not fight a contest of my adopted father's will. I should be very much more comfortable had the will not cut off the five daughters and sons of Mr. Benjamin. Personally I regret that it has caused this bitterness."

"It was not my fault. It was the will of Park Benjamin, my father. I would be doing less than my duty to him were I not to fight any efforts of those who try to break it."

When Mr. Benjamin, proposing to adopt Miss Bolch, forwarded the adoption papers to Mrs. Benjamin, Dr. P. W. Seward, head of the sanitarium, returned them unopened, explaining that Mrs. Benjamin was in no condition to be a party to such proceedings. The men mentioned were: Joseph Burke, No. 34 Francis street; Peter Burke, Don avenue; Roger Cullen, Melrose street, South End, and Harold Cliff, Hyde Park avenue, Jamaica Plain. They were charged and bailed.

BUSINESS MEN MUST ALL REGISTER

Notorious Abuses Practiced by Professionals End Tomorrow

"Sorry days for the bail sharks begin tomorrow." The new law passed by the Legislature to correct notorious abuses practiced by professional bondsmen will be in effect when the sun rises on a new day.

All bondsmen must register with the courts. Any person who arranges bail with profit for himself will be regarded as a professional. The courts may revoke his license at any time.

Whenever property is offered as security, it must be plainly and accurately described.

To prevent the enormous losses the courts have sustained at the hands of straw men, the new law says that when property is mortgaged it must not be sold or transferred or encumbered except with the approval of the court. This is intended to stop the practice of mortgaging to stop the practice of mortgaging to "phony" property which never existed and to prevent the sale of property before the person on bail escapes.

Fines as high as one year in prison are provided for anyone who violates the terms of the new anti-bail-shark statute.

over the expense of an operation and arranged to provide for Mrs. Benjamin's future.

Five wills were discarded by Benjamin before the sixth was drafted. The last will was drawn by Attorney Arthur L. Fullman, who now represents the adopted daughter.

Speaking of it, Fullman said: "In April, 1920, Mr. Benjamin asked me to draft a will. He seemed to be more or less tired toward his children, but in the document I drew up for him there was no mention of the dollar bequest. He added a clause disabarring his children."

AWAIT MRS. CARUSO.

Under the terms of the will the adopted daughter was $40,000 outright and all the Benjamin property at No. 170 West Twenty-third street, upon the death of Mrs. Benjamin. She receives the residue of the estate.

"Pack Benjamin, Jr., said that he and his brothers and sisters had decided to put off any further announcement of the plan until Mrs. Dorothy Benjamin Caruso arrives from Italy. She has notified her brother that she will start for America as soon as she arranges for passage."

The facts concerning the adoption of Miss Bolchi were explained by Attorney Fullman, who said: "There has been no such error in the facts surrounding Miss Bolchi's adoption that I would like to rectify on some points. Until 1914 it was not legal to adopt an adult in New York State. But in that year the adoption law was amended and it was possible for Mr. Benjamin to adopt Miss Bolchi. At the time it was not stated in court that Mrs. Benjamin had no objection to the adoption of Miss Bolchi."

BENJAMIN DETERMINED.

"Mrs. Benjamin was then and is now an epileptic. I do not know that her condition was ever such a dire one as it is said to be. It is true that she was epileptic, but she was not a danger to herself or to others."

A copy of the head waiter's letter was sent by the indignant Londoner to the hotel proprietor, from whom he received no apology.

WOMAN OFFERS TO "GIVE" U. S. TEXAS

Washington, Aug. 31.—An offer to transfer in the United States government all her alleged rights to property which were declared to embrace "practically the whole of Texas" as well as extensive tracts in Mexico, Lower California and the Pacific coast, "from California to Oregon," was made by Mary Z. Webb of this city, in a memorial sent to Vice-President Coolidge for submission to the Senate.

The memorial set forth in detail the basis for Mrs. Webb's claims to the property, much of which was said to be situated in the present and former holdings of the Colorado and Red River Land Company. No estimate was made of the total value of the property, but it was stated that two minor tracts had been sold for $25,000,000.

MUSICAL SHOW BEAUTY SEEKS DIVORCE

New York, Aug. 31.—Florence Darling, the former musical comedy favorite, has begun her suit for absolute divorce against her husband, J. Wesley Rosenquest, No. 145 West Eighty-third street, before Justice Frank S. Gannon in the Brooklyn Supreme Court.

An unidentified blonde is named by Mrs. Rosenquest as correspondent. Witnesses testified that one night last May they forced their way into a room in the Hotel France, where they found Rosenquest in company with the woman.

This was done before the wife received a letter on the hotel's stationery from the head waiter, saying among other things:

"Your husband left without leaving gratuity for any of the staff, which is a most disgraceful thing for a man of his standing. I feel it my duty to forward your name to my club and association as that every hotel in England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales will know your name and also the unbecoming way you treated the above hotel staff."

A copy of the head waiter's letter was sent by the indignant Londoner to the hotel proprietor, from whom he received no apology.

LOVE SHRINE IN RUINS; SOUL MATES' EXILED

Bed Bank, N. J., Aug. 31.—The famous Parms-Pratt "love shrine," with its Oriental setting of purple hangings, incense, and exotic rituals, has been ousted by unfeeling materialism.

Its two devotees, Miss Parms, actress and crystal gazer, the mystic who spoke of hearing heavenly messages, and her disciple, A. Houghton Pratt, are strangely missing from Atlantic Highlands.

Wandering through the Jersey hills and woodlands awaiting some divine power to deliver them from the cruelty and wickedness of the world about them, the mystic, as indicated by their friends and relatives, yet hope to be able to re-establish their shrine of love and mysticism.

While neighbors, untouched by the night, looked on, a steady band, led by Chief of Police S. J. Decker and Sheriff M. J. Decker, carried the furniture and rich furnishings of the "love shrine" out of the mansion, a woman was seen and locked the doors against the former mystic tenants.

The famous mystic and her "affinity" who after coming under the spell of Miss Parms in 1915 gave up an envied position in the literary and business world and fled forth into the "outer world" in quest of a delivering fate, since then nothing has been seen of the pair.

On a late November afternoon seven years ago a limousine, holed in purple, drove up at the chemical hangar and Miss Parms, the "devotee of love," and her new disciple stepped out. They converted the hangar into a shrine of love and mysticism. Later Miss Parms opened a tea room in Atlantic Highlands.

In time creditors took a hand. As there was no income the $40,000 that Pratt had brought to the shrine quickly disappeared.

Thus came the final blow. The "shrine of love" was dismantled by the agents of the landlord and the crystal ball.

Pratt, widely known once as an editor, was a member of the publishing firm of Houghton, Mifflin & Company. With his success, Miss Parms' spirit, his wife and children came off.

BEAUTY TO WED FAT MAN; SHE LOVES HIM

Hyannis, Aug. 31.—The girl who would be happy ever after she marries a fat man.

So declares Miss Ada McWilliams, nineteen, and so charming that even her girl friends call her "Fatsie."

Miss Ada is engaged to marry Walter Hiers, who literally occupies more space on the screen than any actor since blessed with embonpoint. Miss Ada's father, Charles McWilliams, is wealthy, and she will inherit his fortune, but that does not prejudice her affections. They will be married in St. Paul's Episcopal Church in December.

"Nobody loves a fat man as I do," said Miss McWilliams, "but I don't agree with it. I have many other things to love and to love Mr. Hiers."

"He must retain his present rotundity to be justice to the character he portrays on the film. To do that, dear Walter must be well fed. I am going to take the course in the College of Home Economics at Syracuse University this Autumn. I shall learn to be a fine cook—especially to make creamed potatoes and to make a delicious cream sauce for the meat."

"I like plenty of cream," continued this attractive young woman. "It is impossible for Walter to live on a cottage—so there you are, or rather, there will be in his kitchen."

"Again, suppose we are at the beach. Walter will be with his face to the sun. I will be looking at him. Will I be looking? I should say not. And if I'm not, I'll be looking at Walter's face. He is so beautiful, Walter walks in, the vast expanse of water rises and I'm up to my eyes in it."

"And, girls, think of having Walter in the kitchen. He will close the door to a beautiful counter like a tank going through barbed wire."

Mr. Hiers agreed perfectly with his fiancée.
